Radio Worldwide Foundation Radio Course

6-19 July 2012

Share the good news more effectively on radio

Discover new gifts

About the course

Our Foundation Radio Course is the only UK radio course which includes a live radio station. It offers unique opportunities to discover and develop your creative and technical gifts.

There are a surprising number of opportunities and a large degree of freedom for Christians to use mass media to share the good news. There is, however, a shortage of Christians equipped in radio.

To communicate God's love through radio, skills must be developed to the highest standards. Programme producers must be well trained. Our Foundation Course is designed to bring the medium of radio within your reach. Christians with a wide experience of radio broadcasting will give you fresh insight into this very effective tool, as well as help you discover and develop your own ability to communicate effectively.

You will gain an understanding of how to:

- Define and reach your audience
- Use a portable recorder and microphone
- Edit sound digitally
- Operate a radio studio (Rothwell Carnival Radio)
- Carry out research and interview people
- Make adverts and short documentaries

During the course you will:

- Be part of a team, operating a live radio station
- Put together your own radio show
- Explore communication techniques
- Discover new gifts
- Meet and work with creative and technical people

Previous media experience is helpful but not essential.

Your hosts

The Foundation Radio Course is hosted by Radio Worldwide Directors Danny and Ann Marie Isebring.

Your lecturers include

Roger Basick: Media Specialist and Training Director of HCJB-Eurasia. (HCJB is the world's first missionary radio station.)
